

LADIES WHO LUNCH

To quote Wikipedia:

Ladies who lunch is a phrase to describe slim, well-off, old-moneyed, well-dressed women who meet for social luncheons, usually during the working week. Typically, the women involved are married and non-working. Normally the lunch is in a high-class restaurant, but could also take place in a department store during a shopping trip. Sometimes the lunch takes place under the pretext of raising money for charity. Oftentimes, the women simply gossip about trivial and frivolous things.

In Bledlow the 'Ladies who Lunch' are not slim (though some are), they are not well off and old-moneyed (though some are) and they are not well dressed (though some are); but we do meet for a social luncheon during the working week, in a high class restaurant: The Peacock at Henton. We don't raise money for charity, we just each order and pay for our own lunch - but we do gossip about trivial and frivolous things!

We are a group of sociable and welcoming women, not exclusively from the Church, who meet on the first Wednesday of the month at 12.30 pm at The Peacock. So if you would like to meet some new people, have just moved into the area, have been here for years and want to meet up with old friends and make some new ones, or simply fancy some company at lunchtime, come and join us.

Just turn up, but if you'd prefer to speak with someone before you come, contact Sally Manning on 01844 345968.
